This New Super-Giant Aster is a most outstanding introduction. Plant is a strong grower; stems are long and heavy, without side branches, admirably suited for cutting. Flowers are full-petaled, deep, and unusually large, yet artistically graceful in the feathery effect of the interlacing petals. The color is a pure shell pink, and we consider this beautiful Aster one of our best novelties.

It comes true from seed and we urge our customers to grow it this year. The photo of a plant shown above does not do justice to this Beautiful Dahlia; notice the large double blooms, some measuring over 7 inches across, and many buds yet to open. It should be seen to be appreciated. It is a healthy and strong grower and bloomer from seed, and we feel sure will delight all who love fine Dahlias.

New Grain for Poultry Called PROSO

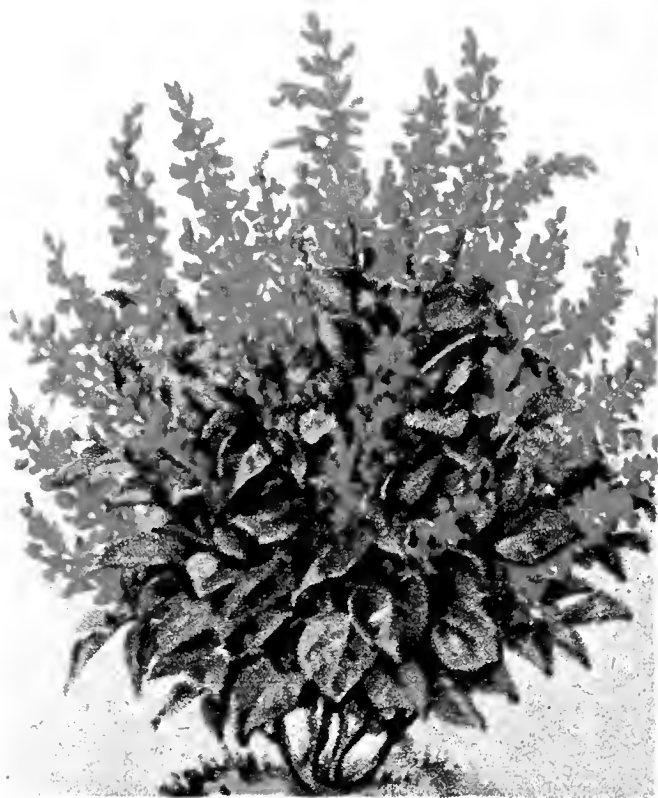

Our customers who keep some poultry may be interested to know about a New Poultry Grain we have been testing in our Experimental Gardens. It is claimed that it originated in Russia and is called PROSO. It proves to be an enormous yielder and matures a crop in a very short time; our plantings were made in July and were ready to harvest in less than 60 days. It grows more rapidly and matures quicker than other grains; reaches a height of 3 to 4 feet, stools and branches making 12 to 20 heads instead of one, and that is why it yields such enormous crops from very small plots of ground.

It is claimed for feeding poultry Proso is equal to, or better than Wheat; it makes a splendid mash when ground alone, and it may be fed in bundles, as the kernels are readily scratched out of the heads, or it may be fed as clean grain; and it is claimed fowls leave other grains once they have tasted Proso.

It may be planted any time from Corn planting time up to July 15th, and it will grow on high, dry soil that is not suitable for other grains. It is especially valuable as a summer "catch crop" — something that may be planted on land which has had an early crop removed, or ground that has been drowned out and not in shape to work until late in the season. We offer a limited quantity of seed to all those wishing to try this New Poultry Grain, and even if you have only a limited space you can grow an enormous crop. From a packet or ounce of seed you can test it out as a poultry feed and keep plenty to plant another year. Pkt., 10¢; oz., 30¢.

The illustration shows 21 Proso grain heads, one of which had 1185 grains. This accounts for its enormous yielding qualities.

Asters have been one of our specialties for years and last season was the first we offered a Wilt-Resistant strain. Prevention through Wilt-Resistant strains is the only method of controlling the disease and we refer you to letters from customers on Page 32 giving results the past season from planting our Wilt-Resistant strain.

We are offering a Special Mixture of large flowering Asters all grown from Wilt-Resistant stock and believe immune to Wilt. This mixture is made up of different colors in such kinds as Crego, Comet, Royal, Ostrich Feather, Branching, Asterum, Quilled, Sensation and others.

For the contest which closed November 1, 1933, we have received quite a large number of bulbs; these bulbs being entered under conditions printed in our 1933 Seed Book, which provided that any of our customers producing a Fragrant Gladiolus Bloom, send us the bulb; we to plant in our Experimental Gardens spring of 1934, and that a committee of 3 Horticulturists make decision as to which bloom be the most fragrant of those produced from our 1934 Experimental Garden planting; and that award shall be made as soon as report from the committee be received. The result of contest and name of the winner to be published in our 1935 Seed Book.

Another $100 Offered For Fragrant Gladiolus

A great deal of interest has been shown in our Fragrant Gladiolus Contest which closed November 1, 1933. Many who planted our Hybrid Gladiolus Seeds did not get bulbs sufficiently large to produce blooms the same season, and as we wish to give all an opportunity to enter the contest as to fragrant blooms produced, we are offering another $100.00 for the most Fragrant Gladiolus Bloom produced during the season of 1934 under the same conditions and provisions as provided for 1933, as stated below:

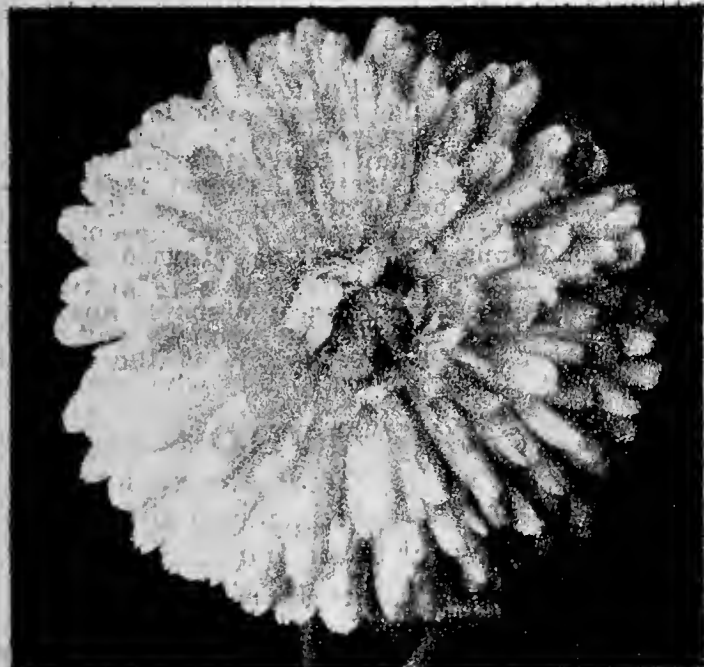

If a Fragrant Gladiolus Bloom is produced from any of our Seeds or Bulbs, grower should let the Bulb producing the fragrant bloom mature, and before frost dig this bulb and mail it to us with grower's name and address.

On receipt of all Bulbs from Growers claiming they produced fragrant blooms we will carefully hold in storage, and at proper time in spring plant them all in our Experimental Gardens, and if the bulbs produce fragrant blooms as claimed, $100 will be sent the person whose bulb produced the most fragrant bloom.

The decision as to what shall be considered the most fragrant bloom will be made by a committee of 3 Horticulturists named by the President of F. B. Mills Seed Grower, Inc., and their report will be final and will be published in Mills Annual Seed Book, giving name and address of person receiving the award. Closing date November 1, 1934 for all bulbs to be sent in.

SAVE 30¢ ON $1 ORDERS

We want to explain why 30c can be saved on every $1.00 order by using MILLS CASH DISCOUNT COUPONS:

FIRST — We are located in a small country town where expenses are at a minimum; we own our own Buildings and Equipment and have no large overhead expenses as compared with City Seed Houses.

SECOND — We supply the best Seeds grown and have a very economical system of handling our orders; are located within 100 feet of Rose Hill Post Office from which there are two mails daily each way (except Sunday) direct to and from Railway trains.

THIRD — It requires nearly as much labor to fill a 10c order as one of $1.00 or more. No matter what the size of order, it has to be opened, recorded, addressed, seeds assembled, checked, packed, weighed and stamped ready for mailing. After checking costs we find that on orders amounting to $1.00 we can save our customers 30c.

I have a good report on your Will-Resistant Asters. My neighbor watched me plant the seed and transplant the good-looking plants and assured me they would reach a certain stage and die. They did not, but grew into lovely plants covered with buds.

Mrs. C. C. Williamson, Westchester County, N. Y., Oct. 20, 1933, writes:

Last spring I bought Cosmos, Zinnias, Salpiglossis, Petunias, and other varieties of seed from you, and from another nationally known but more expensive Seed Merchant. I planted both at the same time and in the same beds. The seed of your competitor came up but bloomed very unsatisfactorily. Your seeds produced flowers the most successfully in my neighborhood.

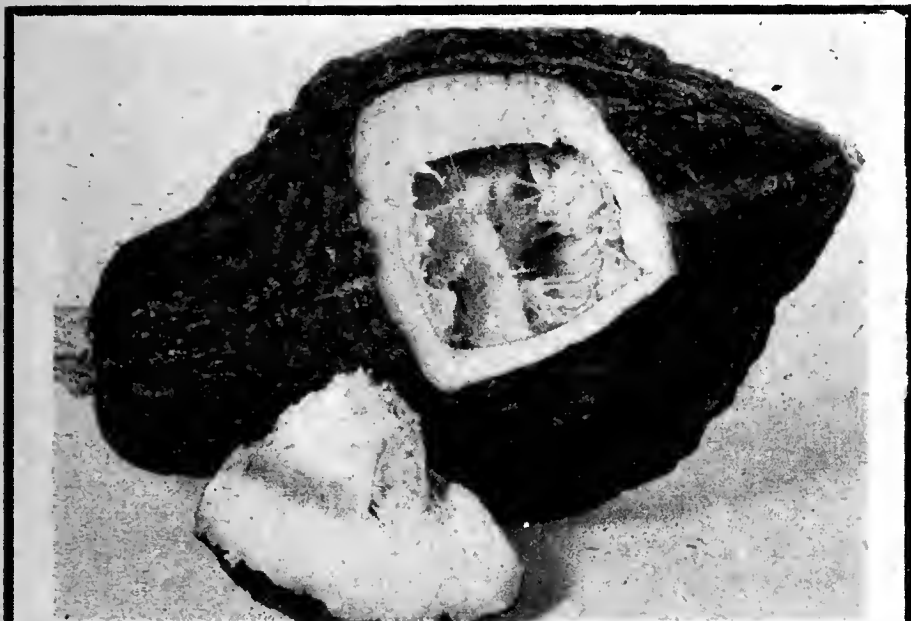

I wish to report my luck in raising your Wil-Resistant strain of Asters. I only have a small city-yard 12 x 16 feet, but the Asters were the pride of the neighborhood with beautiful double flowers of many shades. As a cut flower they were wonderful, lasting two weeks on my table. I feel they would be a wonderful success if grown by folks living in the country where ground is richer. They are the most beautiful Asters I have ever seen.

Mrs. J. Baker, Wayne Co., Mich., Sept. 20 — writes:

Got a sample of your Giant Asters in the spring and have 13 plants all different colors. Wilt-Resistant is all the name implies.

Mr. H. H. King, Passaic County, N. J., Sept. 3 — writes:

Last spring received packet of your Wilt-Resistant Asters and wish to say although this is my first year with flowers I have had wonderful success. They are now blooming in profusion and not a sign of a bug or disease anywhere on them.

Mr. Walter H. Lewis, Worcester Co., Mass., Oct. 4 — writes:

It gives me pleasure to inform you I have tried your Aster seed with results of the finest plants I have ever raised, and I have not had a bug on my plants where my neighbors have had plenty.

Mrs. Mary F. Perry, Newton Co., Ga., Oct. 4 — writes:

I find myself attempting to tell you about those Aster seeds I received on trial. They are the most beautiful flowers I've raised; everybody admires them.

Mr. R. A. Smith, Hennepin Co., Minn., Sept. 15 — writes:

Last spring you advertised some Wilt-Proof Asters and you sent me packet seed. I started the seeds in the house and then transplanted them. They have been in blossom now for two or three weeks, and are the nicest Asters I ever saw, with no sign of wilt. There must be 8 or 10 different colors and my wife says she would rather have them than Chrysanthemums.

Miss Catherine Feeney, Lincoln Co., Maine, Sept. 6 — writes:

The Asters are now at their height. I just counted 192 blossoms in a wonderful variety of lovely colors, all from the little packet sample which you sent me.

Mrs. D. B. Jessup, Baltimore Co., Md., Sept. 9 — writes:

Wish it were possible for me to express the beauty of my Aster bed, they are so lovely. I've never in the 30 years I've been growing Asters had such beautiful colors as from the sample of Wilt-Proof from you last spring. The supreme test is that these were planted in the same ground we used for Asters last year.

Mr. Joseph L. Fawley, Philadelphia Co., Pa., Sept. 25 — writes:

In the spring you sent me sample of Fusarium Wilt-Resistant Asters. I wish to report they have been a great pleasure to me and matured almost 100%. I tried several other strains also and lost nearly every one.

Mr. Rudolph Born, New Haven Co., Conn., Sept. 25 — writes:

I want to tell you the wonderful success I had with the sample packet Aster seed. They all came up, no sign of disease and the colors are very beautiful.

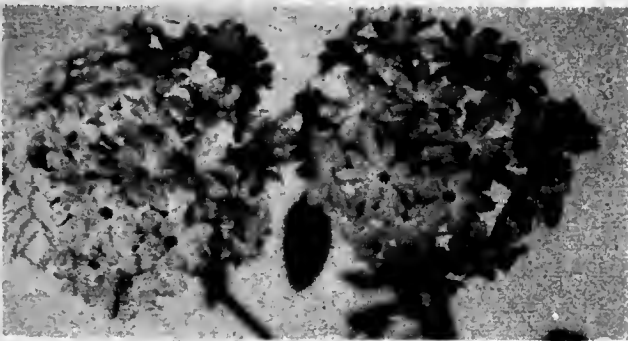

Mrs. A. Davis, Greene Co., N. Y., Sept., 24 — writes:

From the packet of Giant Aster, the Wilt-Resistant Strain, I received from you last spring I raised 52 plants and not one died from Wilt and I only lost 2 or 3 from transplanting. GIANT SNAPDRAGONS

These Giant or Maximum Snapdragons (Antirrhinum) represent the latest development in beautifully formed flowers in a wide range from delicate pastel shades to vivid colors. They are well called The Aristocrats of the Garden, yet their ease of culture brings the height of perfection in any garden.

The long, strong spikes with dark glossy leaves and beautiful flowers completely encircling the spike are gorgeous for cutting. Seed sown in May brings bloom from July until frost, or sown inside and transplanted brings earlier bloom. Plants cut back and potted in September will bloom through the winter.

Special Color Mixture: Pkt. (500 seeds), 10¢; 3 pkts., 25¢; 1/16 oz., 40¢.
